ENABLING BUSINESS TRANSITIONS

What we are

Sentient IT Systems Private Limited is an Indian onshore software development company that strategically seeks to align with corporate entities to deliver results better, faster and more cost effectively. We do this by leveraging a proven software development template that drills deep and moves around our chosen verticals with great agility. This fathom-deep-and-dance mobility is part of our DNA, and core to our business models and engrained in all our technology processes. With a decade long experience as technology tantrics under our belt, we understand what it requires to drive efficiency and output for our clients and we make this a priority for every project , especially in the hospitality sector. For instance, we have hands on experience in consulting and creating fully covered Hotel Management Applications, Restaurant Management Software (PoS), Inventory & Billing software. Besides these products, we have also assisted many SME companies to setup and backed it up with its own IT back office and consulted them continuously to create customized software solutions for their specific needs.

Sentient IT Systems is helmed and quarterbacked with entrepreneurs and thought leaders whose deep understanding of people, products and priorities ensures a close and collaborative working relationship with their clients throughout the life of a project and beyond. The end result is that they profit from the market's highest quality products with the lowest total cost of engagement.

At Sentient IT Systems we look forward today to penetrate and position our cutting-edge products not only in the backend as a service (BaaS) market, but also cater to the global and the domestic market in the software as a service (SaaS) cloud space. To this end we have developed a series of software products in online recruitment, consumer database and task management, to name a few.

Who we are

Balaji V.Parthsarathy

Bala, a management graduate from New Hampshire University, School of Business, USA, (Indian Chapter) believes in assuming direct ownership of original ideas and responsibilities and taking them forward passionately. When it comes to identifying niche needs and developing bespoke software solutions for the selected few in the corporate world, his keen powers of observation into systems and how they work (or, don't work) has stood in good stead and helped benchmark the deliverables with some of the best solution providers worldwide. Bala has a knack of seeing what the guy next cubicle can't see in a zillion real life and real time situations. He focuses his razor sharp acumen for architecting an analysis superstructure from ground up and then handing over the curser to his corps of encoders to write the coda with a florish.
Thus, he has emerged as one of the few non-IT entrepreneurs in Chennai who continue to play a swashbuckling role by cutting a systemic swathe right across the field of boutique software development with great alacrity.

Bala, an avid cricketer and an amateur astronomer/stargazer, also serves as a creative director in an accredited Chennai based advertising agency that he helped co found in 2002.

Prakash Chandrasekar

Prakash is a innovative software industry die hard referred to as a developer icon- who extols and educates the world on how to provide the perfect program and back it up with the requisite database expertise. He passionately shares his visions as an active e-evangelist and is tapped as an expert source by the media on his insights in pioneering technologies, process redesign and development. His is a methodology that unites the often separate functions of software development and production and operations into a single, integrated, and continuous process. Prakash is naturally gifted with proactive forward thinking that gives him an edge when it comes to problem identification, research analysis and resolution by making sense of the outcome of erudite global e-explorations. He spearheads full line of sight life-cycles of project development, quality assurance that drives strong and sustainable gains in new technologies. His easy going nature combined with devastating domain knowledge leverages people, processes, and technology to stimulate collaboration and innovation across the entire software development and release process.
